

As the direct seeding industry evolves, unique shank styles and configurations are being developed by air drill manufacturers. BTT is dedicated to providing openers to fit these shank designs and configurations. You can be assured that the quality you have come to trust in our products will be available in an opener for your choice of air drill and soil conditions.

